La Mancha Resources Inc.

La Mancha is an international gold producer operating two mines in Australia and two mines in Africa. Thanks to the successful start of our fourth mine, strong year-over-year production growth and promising exploration results, 2010 marked the successful completion of the aggressive value creation strategies formulated when La Mancha was formed in 2006.

In 2011, we expect to produce up to 135,000 oz of gold at an average cash cost of $671/oz and will continue to deliver sustained production growth, as we embark on La Mancha's second expansionary phase with our VMS project at Hassai. Having quickly surpassed the 120,000-ounce-per-year mark, we now expect our rapidly-developing flagship VMS project in Sudan and fast-growing resource base in Australia to continue to boost production over the 200,000-ounce mark by the end of 2013.

Undertaking Our Next Expansion

* Includes copper gold eq using USD950/oz and $2.18/lb, assuming 60% Hassai ownership from 2012 onward

Our Flagship VMS Project

VMS at Hassaï in Sudan

Several VMS structures have been identified at the bottom of the open pits mined over the last 20 years at Hassaï. There is a strong assurance that substantial resources remain to be unveiled – both gold and copper. A positive Preliminary Economic Assessment ("PEA" or scoping study) recommends constructing a CIL Plant in a first Phase to exploit gold at a lower cost per ounce and in a second Phase to build a new processing plant for the VMS. The development of the first Phase would greatly contribute in boosting total gold production for La Mancha to more than 200,000 ounces by the end of 2013.

Phase 1 CIL – Highlights

- Ore source: tailings, traditional ore, and acidic SBR
- Production set to start in 2013
- Expected yearly production of 155,800 oz at a cash cost of USD482/oz
- Mine life 6 years
- NPV of $150M*
- Payback of 1.9 years
- Feasibility study expected for early 2011

* at 5% discount rate using a gold price of US$950/oz

Phase 2 VMS – Highlights

- An inferred resource of 50 MT of ore was reported in H2 2009 based on the first 2 targets
- Preliminary economic study already returns positive results
- A 12-month exploration program ($18 million and 100,000 m of drilling) started in October
- Goal to increase resources to over 100 MT
- Production set to start in 2015

About Sudan

Sudan is the largest country of Africa and its area of 2.5 million km<sup>2</sup> represents a quarter of the whole area of Canada or Europe. The Hassaï mine camp is comprised of 10 mining exploitation permits covering an area of 18.5 km<sup>2</sup>.

The port city of Port-Sudan, bordering the Red Sea, is located about 200 km east of the mine and supplies all materials needed to support La Mancha's mining operations. The Hassaï mine is operated as a joint venture by La Mancha Resources (40%), the Sudanese government (56%) and a private engineering firm (4%).
